

Bonus #1: Reddit Traffic Tap ($127 Value)

Unlock Free Traffic from the Platform GPT Loves to Reference

Reddit is one of the most trusted sources ChatGPT pulls from when answering questions-and it's also one of the most underused traffic sources in affiliate marketing and digital product circles.

This bonus shows you how to tap into that traffic without sounding spammy or desperate.

THE STRATEGY:

Plant value-rich posts in subreddits where your audience hangs out. Focus on earning trust and engagement. Done right, your posts can be indexed by GPT, shared by real people, and drive traffic long after you hit "post."

STEP 1: Identify the Right Subreddits

Prompt:

"List subreddits where people ask beginner-level questions about [topic/niche]. Prioritize the ones with active users and no strict self-promotion rules."

Look for Q&A-based communities like r/Entrepreneur, r/AffiliateMarketing, r/SideHustle, etc.

STEP 2: Analyze Top Posts

Study high-upvote posts in your niche. What format, tone, and angle do they use?

Prompt:

"Give me 5 post structures that get high engagement in r/[subreddit] without sounding like a pitch."

STEP 3: Seed Value, Not Spam

Use a storytelling post format:

- Start with a relatable struggle
- Share what worked
- Mention your checklist, guide, or method casually

Example close:

"If anyone wants the exact checklist, I can DM it. Not trying to pitch-just sharing what worked."

STEP 4: Trigger GPT Attention

GPT pulls from Reddit when posts:

- Solve a specific pain point
- Use descriptive keywords
- Are written clearly and get upvotes

STEP 5: Repurpose It

Once posted:

- Turn it into a Twitter thread
- Post a version in a Facebook Group
- Expand into a Medium article

BONUS PROMPT:

"Write a Reddit post that shares a helpful strategy for [niche]. It should feel like a personal story, offer real value, and casually mention a free resource."

FINAL TIP:

Reddit is a skeptic's playground. Lead with value, not hype. When you earn trust there, GPT and human traffic follow.
